"Sandy Devine knows exactly who she is - owner of a successful business and one half of Dublin's most talked-about couple. But all is not perfect - her mother has late-stage Alzheimer's, and a newspaper has just published photos of her boyfriend, Sam, with another woman. While sorting through her mother's belongings, Sandy finds an old letter stamped 'Returned: address unknown.' The letter was sent by her mother to Alessandro Rodriguez, who Sandy is shocked to discover is her biological father. Then, Sam comes back into her life, and joins her as she travels to Spain to try to trace Alessandro.
